FUND STRATEGY

The investment process focuses on security selection using fundamental research, leveraging JP Morgan's extensive research network to identify the most attractively priced securities on a global sector basis. Along with company valuations that are determined by forecast cash flows, the Fund's analysts seek to identify structural change, through investment themes, that will be the driver of future returns.

As an actively managed portfolio, the Fund will typically hold between 80 and 120 securities. Whilst securities are selected individually, on a bottom-up basis within each global industry or sector, the region or country allocation of the strategy is a result of the stock-selection process. The Fund's currency exposure is managed on a passive basis and hedged back to the benchmark weightings.

INVESTMENT MANAGER

JP Morgan Asset Management is responsible for the investment management. The investment process focuses on bottom-up stock selection within each global industry or sector based on fundamental research. This approach benefits from the aforementioned extensive research network, allowing the manager to identify the most suitable securities on a global sector basis. Therefore, the region or country allocation of the strategy is a result of the stock selection process. The most distinctive element in our stock selection process is our commitment to proprietary fundamental research, which is the primary driving force behind the value we add. Currency exposure is managed on a passive basis and hedged back to the benchmark weightings.

FUND STRUCTURE

The Utmost International Equity Fund is a US dollar denominated insurance fund, which is established as part of the Utmost Worldwide long-term life fund, based in Guernsey.
